A Blight-Block-Hanker Arrested—Lost an Eye—Assaulted—Short Crop—Crofton Picnic.

The Ed Morris Trial.

The damage suit of Ed Morris' administrator against the L. & N. Railroad was called for trial yesterday. The suit is for $5,000 damages for the killing of Morris at Casky last year.

Earthquake Yesterday.

People in the upper stories of brick buildings felt two distinct shocks of earthquake yesterday morning shortly after 11 o'clock, during a wind-storm that blew a strong gale. No serious damage was done by either the atmospheric or seismic disturbance.

Start Next Tuesday.

The Christian Endeavor crowd will be made up at St. Louis next Tuesday for the California trip of four weeks. A good many people from this city will go in charge of Mr. Allen D. Wallis, who went to Louisville yesterday to make the final arrangements.

Bank Teller in Trouble.

Owensboro, Ky., June 23.—This city was given a great shock this afternoon by the arrest of Henry Hart, who has been Teller in the First National Bank and a trusted employee for many years. The charge against him is an alleged shortage in his accounts of $2,100, but it is hard for his hundreds of friends to believe it true.

Got a Raise.

In the case of Henry Lewis, collector of the L. & N. railroad company, the jury gave defendant $150 damages. The petition alleged that plaintiff was struck by one of the company's trains and injured, that his express wagon was wrecked and that his horse was also hurt. The accident happened at the Ninth street crossing last fall. He sued for $500 damages and at the trial at the last term of the court he was awarded $300. A new trial was granted with the above result.

Lost an Eye.

Howell, Ky., June 22.—Mr. J. C. McKnight, one of the most prominent farmers of this vicinity, met with a serious accident which resulted in the loss of an eye. He was repairing the canvas on a wheat binder, and as he attempted to cut a copper rivet with a coal chisel, a piece of the rivet struck him in the left eye. He was carried at once to Hopkinsville, where several physicians examined his eye and pronounced the sight as permanently lost.

Claims to Have Been Assaulted.

A colored man in the employ of Mr. J. M. Renshaw, named Morton, says that he was assaulted and very roughly handled by some unknown parties near the brick church Monday night. Morton had been to Sinking Fork and claims that several men led him to the brick church. When he refused they seized him and pulling him from the buggy, beat him into a clump of bushes, where he remained unconscious for a few hours. The team returned at a late hour at night and Morton arrived a few hours later. The story of the assault is discredited by some.

Hardly Hair a Crop.

Reports from the various tobacco growing sections of the State indicate a great reduced acreage this year. The farmers of Christian county have set out about half of the usual crop and much of this has died on the hill. There are some few who have not set out a plant, having decided not to grow the weed this year, while others who usually plant from fifty to seventy-five acres, have only about one-tenth of their former acreage. Good rains have fallen over the country this week, but very few plants were set, and they have nearly all died in the field or are overgrown and worthless.

Annual Picnic.

The annual picnic and brandance at Crofton will occur on Saturday, July 3. Mr. B. E. Long, the manager, and Messrs. Geo. Clark and J. M. Meacham, committee on arrangements, have made every preparation to elegantly entertain a large crowd and the occasion this year promises to eclipse all previous efforts. An excellent string band has been engaged to furnish music and all kinds of refreshments will be supplied on the grounds. At night a grand ball occurs at Bowling's Hall to which everybody is invited.

All the candidates are expected to make speeches and a general good time is promised all those who attend. A balloon ascension is announced to take place after the ball and there will also be fire works. A tremendous crowd from this city will go down to the picnic and many will remain until after the ball at night.

ASSOCIATION ADJOURNS

Hopkinsville selected as The Next Place of Meeting.

Georgetown, Ky., June 22.—The General Association of Kentucky Baptists adjourned today after a session of four days.

Dr. A. C. Graves of Lebanon read a report on foreign missions. The Southern Baptists gave $125,000; total coverage, 1,364; missionaries employed, 39; native workers, 43; baptisms for the year, 188. Rev. J. P. Trotter, of Mayfield, read the phone mission report. Total contributions, $93,184; number of baptisms, 4,708; number of missionaries, 372; churches established, 139; Sunday schools established, 313. Dr. E. C. Dargan presented the report of the student's fund of the seminary. Rev. Kennedy, colored, spoke on the "Negroes of America," and Rev. Kerfoot took up a collection of $135 for missions and schools among the colored people. The report of schools and colleges was presented by Prof. Harrison, of Bethel Female College, Hopkinsville, showing 1,500 pupils enrolled; about 150 males, 125 having the ministry in view; 45 seminaries at Louisville; 49 at Georgetown Institute; 295 from the whole country at the seminary; 538 enrolled in the selected schools of the State. Dr. Dargan took up a subscription of $1,110 for the student's fund of the theological seminary, and 15 collections were pronounced.

Rev. Z. T. Cady offered the following strong resolution on temperance, which was adopted:

"It is the sense of this body that no person should be retained in the fellowship of a Baptist church who is engaged in the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes. We recommend that the constitution be so changed that no church be allowed representation in its fellowship members engaged in the manufacture or sale of liquor for beverage purposes."

Rev. Fred Hale presented a report of the Baptist Orphan's Home at Louisville; number in home, 88; received since organized, 1,015; from Louisville, 306; from State, 710. A collection was taken and pledges were made by many churches. L. H. Cox, Secretary of the Ministers' Aid Society, presented the financial exhibit and Dr. Boyd, Chairman of the committee, presented his report. The Association adjourned to meet next year at Hopkinsville.

Fifty Five Hundred.

The crowd of Confederate veterans and their friends that left here on the special train Tuesday morning for Nashville, was estimated at about 600. Several hundred persons came in the city over the O. V. on a special train at 9 o'clock and marched to the L. & N. depot, where they boarded a special of nine coaches. The crowd was considerably swelled in members by parties who got aboard at Pembroke, Trenton and other points further south.

Bivouacs from Trigg, Caldwell, Lyon, Union, Crittenden, and Hopkins, as well as this county, were well represented.

Among the members of the Ned Merrivether Bivouac who left on the special were the following:

C. F. Jarrett, commander; Capt. Darwin Bell, Capt. C. D. Bell, Nat. Gaither, M. H. Nelson, Sr., Robt. B. Hall, R. M. Whitaker, Charles L. Campbell, J. C. Marquette, John Deers, J. W. Patillo, E. D. Jones, H. Bryant, Capt. R. S. Pool, F. M. Whitlow, A. H. Johnson, T. G. Gaines, Maj. J. O. Ferrell, Prof. Jas. G. Bramham, A. C. Morefield, J. C. Adcock, Dr. J. M. Dennis, Judge W. F. Winfree, T. M. Brodridge, Julien Boxley, John C. Boxley, James B. Willis, V. A. Garnett, W. W. Garnett, J. P. Garnett, R. R. Lloyd, P. C. Richardson, G. C. Cantrell, William Harrison, A. H. Morris.

Among the ladies accompanying the local bivouac were Mesdames M. H. Nelson, C. L. Campbell, C. F. Jarrett, Nat. Gaither, W. F. Handall, Misses Mary Park, Katie Manson, Lottie Gunn, Daisy Williams, Bessie Leavell, Fannie Bramham, Mable Walker, Addie Brodridge, Elsie Kimberling, Fannie May Hayes, Mary E. Can, Lott's Holloway.

The crowd was a merry one and the trip to Nashville was made with out accident or delay.

FOUND THEM DEAD.

A Father at Henderson, Kentucky Opens a Trunk Too Late.

Henderson, Ky., June 23.—When an old trunk was opened in the home of Joseph Mellon, near Bradley, in Union county the father found his two little girls in it snatched to death, Laura, 7, and Jennie 5.

While their parents were absent the children had been playing "hide a d'ack" with three other lads. While searching for a good hiding place the two evidently thought of an old trunk in the yard, crawled into it and closed the lid. A spring lock made it an air-tight tomb.

GARROTT CASE.

LIST OF THE JURORS EMPANELLED MONDAY.

The Case Given To The Jury Wednesday Afternoon. An Acquittal or Hung Jury Expected.

Nearly all of this week was taken up in circuit court up to Thursday in trying the case of Cifra W. Garrott killing Tom Leavell, at Longview, last fall.

A jury was empaneled without any very great trouble, eight jurors being secured from the regular panel. The following is a list of the jurors, the four last named being taken by the bystanders:

W. E. Alcock, T. J. Haddock, E. W. Walker, C. H. Harrison, W. H. Sizemore, C. P. Nolen, F. M. Alder, Mack Denton, O. B. Griffin, W. H. Anderson, J. G. Hord and J. W. Tucker.

The examination of witnesses occupied most of Monday and Tuesday. The defense was conducted by Feland & Son and C. H. Bush, the prosecution by Commonwealth's Attorney Garrott and County Attorney Anderson.

The facts in the case were substantially as reported in the KENTUCKIAN at the time. Garrott had borrowed a saddle tub from Mr. Fields, which was at Reuben Leavell's. He sent his wagon after it and Leavell refused to let it up until he had saved his own horse, he having failed to kill on the day for which he had borrowed the tub. Garrott then went after the tub himself and when he attempted to drive into Leavell's lot, Leavell and three or four of his grown sons attacked him. A scuffle ensued and Garrott drew his pistol and shot old man Leavell and his son Tom, one of them being shot from the ground, as Garrott fell or was thrown down. He threw the loads out of his pistol just as it was taken from him and got up and took to his heels while one of the negroes was trying to shoot him with the empty pistol. Tom Leavell died and Reuben was down for some time from his wounds, but recovered.

Garrott is a small but heavy set young man. The fact that he was beset by four or five stalwart negro men made his plea of self-defense a strong one from the start and his case was made out in a clear and convincing manner.

All of the attorneys on both sides made speeches, that of Mr. Garrott being in his usual severe and vigorous style.

The general opinion of those who heard the trial through is that the verdict will be an acquittal or a hung jury. As we went to press the jury was still out.

Forgot To Pay His Bill.

On June 14 a young stranger registered at the Phoenix Hotel as W. R. Rae, Chicago, Ill., claiming to be a music drummer for Appleton & Co., Cincinnati. He was about 27 years old, low and heavy set, with a beard, less face and long Paderewski hair. He asked for the best room in the house and ordered a five dollar bill. On last Sunday morning Rae was called a barber-shop and parted with his long flowing locks. He looked quite drowsy all day, but Sunday night the last he spent in the hotel. He got up for the early train Monday morning, disappeared before the clerk could give him directions how to catch his train and evacuated the city, forgetting to pay his bill or return the little five to Mr. Bamberger. He left an empty valise and a walking case in his room and Mr. Cooper is not altogether without hopes that he may call for them some day. Mr. Cooper wants to see him $14 worth.

BOLD EXPRESS ROBBERY.

A Lone Hunter Secures $350 From Messenger's Brannon.

Russellville, Ky., June 22.—Train No. 102 on the Louisville and Nashville railroad, from Memphis to Louisville, was robbed at St. Bethlehem, nine miles south of Guthrie, to night at about 9:45 o'clock. A man with a black mask over his face went into the express car and held up the messenger, L. C. Brannon, and secured $350 worth of money and valuables. He then jumped out of the car door and went off into the country. Bloodhounds are on the track and the road officials are doing all they can to capture the thief.

The train 102 left Memphis at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and arrived at Louisville at 3:31 a. m. Wednesday. It is supposed the robber boarded the train at Clarksville.

The passengers were not disturbed and knew nothing of the robbery until it was reported by the messenger.

 CLERK COURT OF APPEALS, SAM J. SHACKELFORD,
 of Daviess.
 CIRCUIT JUDGE,
 THOMAS P. COOK,
 of Callaway.
 COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEY,
 W. R. HOWELL,
 of Christian.

Democrats, free silver Republicans and Populists are all holding State conventions at Des Moines, Iowa.

There is said to be no chance for the consideration at this session of any of the bills that have been introduced in Congress for the repeal of civil service law.

The Colorado Legislature has repealed the statute making the Fourth of July, Thanksgiving Day, Christmas, New Year's, Washington's birthday and Memorial Day legal holidays.

The city council of Henderson has passed an ordinance to issue $471,000 in bonds to refund the bonded indebtedness of that city. The bonds are payable in the lawful money of the United States.

B. F. Havens, who represented Indiana at the World's Fair as executive commissioner, has brought suit against the state for $1,486, which, he says, he expended in entertaining distinguished guest, who called at the Indiana building.

When asked by a Washington correspondent about reports that he had pledged himself not to run for Congress, Dr. Clardy replied that he probably would not make the race again but nobody was authorized to say so.

The court of appeals at Frankfort has decided that Still county must pay the $50,000 which it subscribed to the R. N. I. and B. railroad. The county agreed to pay this amount if the road was completed to Irvine on a certain day, but afterward resisted the payment.

Acting Gov. Wootton has appointed Mrs. Nora Kelly, of Greenup county, a Commissioner from Kentucky to the National Board of Charities, which convenes at Toronto on July 7, in place of Mrs. Frances Beauchamp, of Lexington, who had been compelled to decline the appointment.

Dr. Hunter gets the following rapport from the Elkton Times:
 "Hunter and his crowd have about come to the conclusion that they will be unable to evict John Rhea out of his seat in congress, and Godfrey talks of going west. God pity the afflicted westerner."

The General Association of Kentucky Baptists at Georgetown adopted a resolution declaring that no one engaged in the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors should be retaining and such members should be denied representation in the association. The association meets in this city next year.

The Ohio Republicans in their State platform include in the same old declarations for "sound money" and protection, uphold McKinley's annexation policy and declare for more pensions and less civil service reform. The Democrats could have asked no more. The issue is clearly drawn and Ohio will be redeemed this very year.

Of course Gen. Buckner was not a serious factor in the race for commander of the Confederate Veterans' association. Like Longstreet and Machone, he turned against the people of the South and not only forfeited their love but their respect as well.
 During the remaining years of Gen. Buckner's life, he will find when he emerges from the obscurity for which he is so well suited that his popularity is gone and that friends and not cheers will greet him, as was the case at Nashville this week.

The Dispatch has already done a great work for the Democratic party.
 It has restored harmony in the city of Louisville to such an extent that the election of the Democratic ticket is confidently predicted on all sides.
 In the primary this week 14,000 votes were cast, within 2,700 votes of the entire Democratic vote last year. The Dispatch is proving itself to be an able, efficient party organ, staunchly partisan but at the same time conservative in its treatment of enemies formerly within the party, and the deserters are being brought back into the fold. The Times and Post will both support the ticket this year and the Courier Journal also may accept the leadership of the Dispatch.

There has never been such a gathering of the unopposed heroes of the South, as the present reunion of Confederate Veterans at Nashville.
 To behold a vast sea of white heads filling the ten thousand seats in the tabernacle was a sight never to be forgotten and every tax-payer must have felt respect for this body of men, whether he sympathized with their cause or not for these are battle-worn veterans who not only fought for their homes and firesides but when the war was over went to work and have supported themselves without public assistance but have been burdened with taxation.

By a vote of 106 to 75, the General Baptist Association asked the Trustees of the Southern Baptist Seminary at Louisville to remove Dr. W. H.
 Whitsett as President. The resolution was as follows:
 Resolved, First—That the trustees of the seminary from Kentucky be requested to urge, insist upon and vote for the retirement of Dr. W. H.
 Whitsett from the institution and from the chair of church history.

The hemp schedule as amended by the Senate stands: Hemp and hemp tow, $20 per ton. The Senate struck out the carded tow rates and put dressed line at $40 per ton. This schedule is a reduction over the rates secured in the House by Representative Evans, which were: Hemp, $25 per ton; hemp tow, one cent per pound; hemp tow, carded, one-half cent per pound; dressed line, $50 per ton.

Battle Between Snakes.
 Mr. J. A. Clark, keeper of the County Poor-house, and Ed Mitchell witnessed a sight on their way to town that is not often seen nowadays.
 In the road, just ahead of them, they saw a war of snakes, writhing, rolled and twisted about each other until they could not tell how many the were or anything else about them.
 Mr. Clark got out and examined the bunch closely. He found a black snake of the race variety and copper head in close quarters. The latter was already dying from the fearful embrace of his sable enemy and a large frog was protruding from his mouth. It was this that had caused the combat. The black snake is an enemy of all poisonous snakes and kills them wherever found, and it is also a robber, forcing other reptiles to disgorge recently swallowed prey and appropriating it to its own use.
 Mr. Clark brought the dead copper head to town where it attracted the attention of the crowd. It showed signs of the fearful constriction of the racer, the skin being crushed off in several places.—Orestesboro Inquirer.

 ers voted in the affirmative on the question.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years it was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly falling to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proved catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment.

A special committee of the Pennsylvania Legislature after investigating the condition of the miners in that State reports a depth of poverty and degradation of a great laboring class which no one a few years ago would have believed possible in this country.
 The majority of the miners are working at an average wage of four dollars per week. Nearly all of them have families to support. But to make their condition more distressing the wage is rarely paid in money. The company store and company tenement absorbing all of it and more, and keeping the wretched laborers in constant debt to their employers.

The committee recommends a law abolishing the Truck store, and compeling semi-monthly payment of wages in cash. It must be remembered, however, that the anthracite mines are owned by a Trust, of which Vice-President Hobart and J. Pierpont
 Morgan are conspicuous members.
 It is doubtful if such a bill can pass the Pennsylvania Legislature, but it is not doubtful that the Pennsylvania Supreme Court would declare such a law unconstitutional.

No wonder Pennsylvania went for McKinley last fall. Independence in politics and slavery do not go together.—Henderson Gleaser.

Confederate Veterans' Reunion.
 Nashville, Tenn., June 23.—The seventh annual re-reunion of the United Confederate Veterans ended this evening at 1 o'clock, so far as business was concerned, and to-morrow comes the big parade. The re-reunion was great in every way. It was the largest re-reunion the veterans have ever had; it brought to Nashville the greatest crowds that have ever been here and led to the greatest attendance the Centennial Exposition has ever had. As to enthusiasm, there are statistics. The day was full of events, stirring scenes, happy meetings of friends long separated, and will ever be cherished in the memory of those who attended. The railroad passed the forty thousand mark to-day and the number of returnees here is indicated by the fact that all of the 16,000 badges printed have been given out.
 The unanimous re-election of General John B. Gordon to be Commissioner-in-Chief was no surprise. His attempt to make way for the election of some other veteran was not due to an unwillingness to serve, and the voters knew it, and with a genuine outburst of enthusiasm unanimously re-elected him.

When the roll was called Atlanta received 1015, Louisville 541, and Baltimore 176. Tennessee voted solidly Louisville 154, Missouri solidly for Louisville, 125, and Kentucky's vote of 122 was, of course, solid, and the other vote Louisville received was scattering.

To Members of the National Building and Loan Association—Hopkinsville Branch.
 You have doubtless noticed the decision in the Court of Appeals in reference to Building Association, and we wish to say there is no need for alarm or uneasiness, as we can meet all the requirements of this decision and go on in business safely and profitably.

The matter is not so near serious or injurious to a legitimate Building and Loan business as some of the newspapers would make it appear. Be assured that the only course to pursue is to go right forward with regular payments as usual, and we will proceed as soon as the matter is fully determined to adjust our affairs strictly in accordance with the rulings of the court, and every member will be fully protected and the business need not in the least be distributed. The only member that can be hurt is the party who lags behind and has to pay fines for non-payment dues, etc., at the proper time.

Members who wish to be forward to the home office in July to be posted.
 We are doing business at the same old stand fully prepared to meet the demands made upon us for money, including a reasonable amount of good loans. We want none but the best, and are ready to take care of good ones.

THE LOUISVILLE PRIMARY.

Nominations of the Democratic Party as shown by the Returns.

For mayor, Charles F. Weaver; for judge common pleas, division circuit court, Emmett Field; for judge chancery, division circuit court, Shackleford Miller, (doubt); for judge criminal division, circuit court, Henry S. Barker; for judge law and equity division, circuit court, Sterling B. Toney; for judge county court, James P. Gregory; for commonwealth's attorney, for coroner, Dr. Hugh M. Cullough; for county messengers, W. J. Nominer, for judge, J. H. Pflanz; for sheriff, Henry A. Bell; for county surveyor, Robert H. Young; for city attorney, Morton H. Camp; for city tax collector, James B. Camp; for city treasurer, Stuart R. Young; for city Auditor, Charles Neumeyer; for judge city court, R. H. Thompson; for prosecuting attorney city court, W. T. Thurman; for clerk city court, A. V. Oldham; for bailiff city court, William Barker; park ranger, Louis Sealander, John B. Cowlesman and Thomas H. Sherley. Full ticket for councilman and Aldermen and other minor offices also nominated. About 4,000 votes were polled and it is believed the ticket named can easily be elected.

THE TIMES AND POST.

It is conceded by all fair minded men that the primary election yesterday was one of the fairest and most satisfactory ever held in the city. Each candidate was afforded plain and ample opportunities for securing votes, and while many of the races were very close, the ticket chosen is made up of the men desired by a majority of the Democratic voters. There is cause for gratification too in the fact that the candidates selected compose, in the main, an admirable body of men, comparing favorably in point of competency and character with the aspirants for office hitherto presented to the local voters. In the case of the more important offices the nominees are men of standing, well known to the public and worthy to inspire confidence and support. The Republicans can not find in their ranks powerful candidates as commendable in its personnel as that selected yesterday, and its election in November will result in a vast improvement in the local government of this city and county.—Times.

The Democratic party has acted. Its ticket does not need to be defended or explained. It is not a personal ticket; it is not an irresponsible factional ticket; it is a ticket of a great party with great interest at stake. It makes its appeal first to its party followers and then, as a great party should, it appeals to the public at large for support of a policy dealing directly with municipal matters; a policy best stated in the character of the nominees.

It has taken a long pull and a strong pull and a pull altogether to get the Democratic party in Louisville out of the mire, but yesterday's nominations have placed the people's party on firm ground, from which its members will march to a glorious victory in November next.—Post.

Was His Own Surgeon.

Yesterday morning about 8 o'clock some of the yard crew at the O. V. discovered the bloody corpse of a negro man in an old caboose on the side track near Clark street. The corpse was identified as that of John Bennett, a negro man whose age was about 38 years. Coroner Sandefer upon being notified had the body removed to the undertaking establishment of the Henderson Coffin & Embalming Co., where the inquest was held. When the body was found, it was a kneeling position, the body undressed with quite a pool of blood nearby on the floor of the caboose. The evidence before the coroner's jury showed that he had died from a cut inflicted by his own hand, but not with suicidal intent. Dr. Lieber and Dr. Dixon both testified in the case. It seems that Bennett had been afflicted with a diseased artery which had caused a blood sack to form on his back, which was very painful and the conclusion drawn was that he attempted to alleviate this pain by puncturing it with a knife, which opened the artery, causing him to bleed to death in a short while.—Henderson Observer.

Getting Ready for Business.

The work on the Acme Mills Co.'s new building is progressing rapidly and the mill will be done by the middle of July and the building ready for the machinery. The walls are of red brick, uniform in color and handsome in appearance. The mill building proper is a two-story building and the warehouse two stories. The contract has been let to Nordyke & Marmion, of Indianapolis, Ind., one of the largest building contracting houses in the United States, for a full line of machinery of the capacity of 800 barrels of flour a day. The machinery is now being made and will be ready for shipment about July 15th. The mill will be ready to begin operations about the middle of August.

The company has built a large warehouse adjoining the mill for wheat storage and has rented the Deaton office and some space in the store and Messrs. R. and McDeville and Jno. B. Galtbreath will be on hand at the opening of the season to buy wheat. The plant when opened will be one of the finest mills in the South.

FOUR MEN IN JAIL.

All on Account of the Recent Franking Failure at Horsehead.

Morganfield, Ky., June 22.—The Franking assignment grows more and more sensational. Two more arrests were made in Henderson last night, and the warrant has been changed from a civil to a criminal charge. The two men arrested were Phil Leveson and Alex Scottish. Elmer Ladd went to Henderson and made the arrests at a late hour last night. Leveson is a dry goods and clothing merchant of this city. There are now four men in jail as a result of the assignment—Max Frankel, S. Heckert, Phil Leveson and Alex Scottish. It may be that other arrests will follow. The charge now against them is obtaining goods under false pretenses. The examining trial will be held Friday next. The House, S. B. Vance and Robert Vance, of Henderson, attorneys for Leveson and Scottish, were here today and conferred to discuss the warrant, but failed. All of the accused went to jail. It is thought they could have given bond, but went to jail, so that they could bring suits for damages in the event of their acquittal.

Mob After a Negro.

Eddyville, Ky., June 23.—Eddyville was thrown into a fever of excitement last evening by the discovery that Sam Miller, a negro, had attempted to assault the little daughter of John B. Withers some time during the forenoon. The little girl, who is only five years old, was playing around near her home, where Miller was chopping wood, when the brute suddenly assaulted her. The child's cries frightened the negro and he released her, but threatened her and warned her not to tell anyone what he tried to do. In terror of the negro no doubt, the child did not disclose to anyone the fiendish attempt he had made until this evening, when she told her mother of it. As soon as the father learned of the matter he started in search of Miller, and finding him in the street, attacked him with a knife and would probably have killed him had it not been for the interference of bystanders, who did not understand the cause of the attack. This interference gave Miller an opportunity to escape. The negro surrendered this morning, and is now being kept away from town, by the officers to prevent violence. It is understood the negro denies the charge, but there is such intense excitement the negro will have to be sent to another county and taken away secretly to save him from the mob.

Two Famous Log Cabins.

At the Tennessee Centennial Exposition are to be exhibited the old cabin birthplaces of two famous American citizens. These cabins are genuine, as certified by affidavits in the possession of the owner and exhibitor.

Rev. J. W. Bigham, a Methodist minister, while traveling a circuit which embraced parts of Todd and Hardin counties, Ky., bought the two log cabins and the land on which they stood. One of the cabins was built by Tom Lincoln, and in it he lived with his wife, Nancy Hanks. In this cabin, without a floor, Abe Lincoln was born in the year 1809. Every log, except a few that did not withstand the ravages of time and the weather, is preserved.

The other cabin is one in which the President of the late Confederacy was born. It came from near Fairview, Todd county, Ky. Mr. Dixon was born there in 1805, and when 66 years old was given a banquet by old citizens of Fairview in the very same cabin. In responding to a toast he referred to the fact that he had stood in the halls of Montezuma, in the halls of Congress, and in the halls of Lincoln in America and other countries, but none of these had stirred his emotions as much as when once again standing in the log cabin in which he was born.—Nashville Banner.

YOUTH IS OUT OF DATE

Middle Age is Now in Fashion—How Dr. of Being Fort.

There is no mistake about it. It is young to be in the first faint flush of primary passion is no longer eligible of admirable or enviable. The fashionable age for a successful society woman in London now is between 30 and 40. A man is not so easily appreciated in that charming circle known as "the best set" on planet in years from 35 to 50. Just at present the doctrine of middle age is being preached, and from the most centers of Mayfair exclusiveness to the outermost of the common street, the men and women who are the most popular are those who have "lived."

I don't know why or wherefore this strange inversion of fancy has occurred. Somebody says because the young and the old girls of the century are older and more world-wise than the men and women who have passed the first stages of real youth. Certain it is that the conditions of life at this end of the century are not calculated to keep the springtime of life in the girl's mind.

The doctrine of middle age is being preached with exceeding vehemence at two of the most fashionable theaters in town—at the St. James. Mr. Piner's "Princess and the Butcher" or the "Fantasies" is pursuing its dramatic career with unbroken success, while Charles Wyndham at the Criterion, is personating "The Physician," by Henry Arthur Jones, with his unflinching cleverness. In both these plays (studies of social life each of them) the chief interest centers about men and women who have left the "early morn" stage of life and are on the once-dreaded precipice of maturity.

And it is in fashionable real life as it is within the artificial glamour of the stage. The women of whom we hear the most in London have certainly no longer any claim to be considered young. They are frankly middle-aged, and they seem to glory in it. There is the countess of Warwick—passed we would have dubbed her in other times. She is still beautiful, but she who runs may read her age in the wrinkles of her face. There is still lovely dowagers, the countess of Dudley, a grandmother, but with as many moths fluttering about the light of her blue eyes as would satisfy many a debutante's heart. She is going to marry again, she is still a beauty. Lady de Grey is another instance of the theosophical of middle age. The most-talked-about woman of her time is this tall countess, and one of the most envied. She holds the future as well as the past of Italian opera in London in the hollow of her hand, and her hands are steady. That she says suggests at Covent Garden opera house "goes," and when she is displaced the very tremble—Chicago Chronicle.

DANIEL BOONE.

Became a Spanish Subject, Renouncing Allegiance to United States.

About the year 1797 the old Missouri Danies Boone went over into Missouri and settled in what was known as the Femme Osage (Osage Woman) settlement. This was on the Missouri river in the district of St. Charles, about 45 miles west of St. Louis, and in the territory of the town of St. Charles. This portion of Missouri was then wild and picturesque—just such a country as he loved.

Soon after his arrival in Missouri Daniel Boone renounced his allegiance to the government of the United States and became a Spanish subject. On June 11, 1800, Delassus appointed him commandant, or syndic, of the Femme Osage district, a position which he accepted. The office was both civil and military. In time of peace he acted as an adjudicator, or judge, over the people in his district, and in time of war he was their commander.

The matters on which he had to pass judgment were such as required honesty and practical common sense, rather than a knowledge of law. He was a man of high integrity and high character. On one occasion a desperado who had been terrorizing the people of the Femme Osage district was publicly reprimanded by Boone. The man, who prided himself on his power to overawe the people, cried out: "If you were an old man, I should not take that from you."

"You great coward," responded Boone, shaking his clenched fist close to the man's face, "if you want to get revenge on me for what I have said don't at my gray hairs stand in the way. Old as I am, I am young enough to whip you." Quite crestfallen, the fellow slunk away and was never again heard to say anything against the old pioneer—St. Louis Republic.

"Dear friend," wrote the king of Mwaka to his hatter, "please send me another of those high lats. The one you sent me was such a success and so satisfactory that I have made up my mind to wear no other thing else."—Indianapolis Journal.

GIRLS TAUGHT TO PLAY.

An English School Which is Devoted to This One Object.

Situated in the midst of a thick-spreading growth about two miles from the pretty little Scotch village of Dartford Heath, is one of the most remarkable educational establishments in the world. It is essentially a ladies' college, no "male creature" being admitted. Its avowed precincts, except at certain stated and rare intervals, but this is not the point. It is that it differs from Newnham or Girton, or, in fact, all other girls' schools, in that its pupils are taught not the best way to work, but the best way to play.

The idea is to train up women who shall be physically perfect, and to this end everything else is subordinated. For instance, there are anatomical classes, that the students may know which muscles are brought into play in swimming and rowing, and in other classes in hygiene, that they may learn what kinds of food to eat and what to avoid. But the be-all and end-all of the whole curriculum is the attainment for women of that "sound mind in a sound body," which is justly esteemed so essential to men's well-being.

The founder and principal of this unique college is Mme. Bergman Osterberg, a Swedish lady who is rightly regarded as the foremost living authority upon physical culture for women. Her training was in Sweden, where she was introduced by the London school board with the delicate task of training the board-school-teachers in gymnastics. Over a thousand of them passed through her hands, of whom rather more than half hold her certificate of competence.

The foundation of the physical culture taught at the college to the 30 or 40 "sweet girl graduates" there assembled is Ling's Swedish system of gymnastics. By constant practice in a series of beautiful and rhythmical movements, the whole body is made limber and strong. Then, as soon as the pupil is "fit," all kinds of games are indulged in. Cricket, hockey, tennis, croquet, jumping and vaulting, racing, cycling and almost every other form of sport is pursued, with an eagerness and an anxious desire to excel that is almost rare.

The college is intended mainly for the training of lady teachers of gymnastics, but there are many pupils, the daughters of wealthy people, who are undergoing the course for their health's sake. A girl goes to the college to get pale, anemic and listless, and in the course of a few weeks is transformed into a rosy, healthy woman, fit to "go anywhere and do anything."

Between 18 and 30 is the usual age of admission, but the closer candidates approach the former age the better.

Before a pupil's name is placed on the books she has to submit to a medical examination, in order to make sure there is no organic disease present; and she must also certify her willingness to abide by the college rules and regulations.

The life, though healthy, is far from an easy one. Professors and pupils alike go bareheaded, no matter how inclement the weather may be, and "early to bed and early to rise" is the motto of the school.

Then the diet, though liberal, is careful and must not be privately modified without permission. The wearing of the uniform is also obligatory. It consists of a sort of loose-fitting blouse of dark-blue cloth, with a plaited skirt, and a high collar, and the knees, black stockings and low tan shoes. Corsets, or any substitute thereof, are strictly forbidden. In this costume, unless it is actually raining, the girls spend practically the entire day in the open air.—Answers.

There are 760 lights on and around the coasts of the British Isles, against 610 in France; but the aggregate luminous power of the French lights is greater. The total British sea-board is 3,800 nautical miles, while that of France is 1,692, so that the latter has an average of one light for about every three miles, against a light for each five miles in Great Britain. In oil and gas lights the British Isles have about one-third more mean power per light, but in electric lights France has 2.6 as much power as this country.

In Boston, "If you move," said the burglar, "you are a dead man," answered the other. "If I move it will be good proof that I am alive. You should be more careful as to the meaning of your words."—Yorlth's Companion.

If it required an annual outlay of $100 to insure a family against any serious consequences from an attack of bowel complaint during the year there are many who feel it their duty to pay it; that they could not afford to neglect the health of their family for such an amount. Any one can get this insurance for 25 cents, that being the price of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. In almost every neighborhood some one has died from an attack of bowel complaint before medicine could be procured or a physician called. One or two doses of this remedy will cure an ordinary case. It never fails. Can you afford to take the risk for so small an amount? For sale by R. C. Hardwick, druggist.

The county schools have about all closed.

The home ice plants are running day and night.

It has been discovered that eye salves and waters containing sugar of lead often produce lead poison—fatal to sight if taken to the eye. You run great risk in using such preparations. DEATHS

KELLY.—The 3-year old son of Mr. J. R. Kelly, who lives just east of the city, died Tuesday. This is the second death in Mr. Kelly's family in less than a month, another child having departed this life about three weeks ago.

OWLEY.—Mr. and Mrs. John Y. Owley, of the township of Owens, large circle of friends in the loss of their little nine-months-old daughter, Mattie Easton, who died at 3 o'clock p. m. Monday, near Beverly. The little child had been sick for three weeks with cholera infantum and all that medical skill and careful nursing could accomplish, was done but to no avail. The remains were brought to this city Tuesday afternoon and interred in Hopewell cemetery.

FRAGGON.—Mr. Frank Ferguson, who had been employed at Wood's Mill for some time, died at his home in the city Monday night after an illness of several months. He was first attacked with the grip, which was followed by consumption. He was a man of family and leaves a wife and four children, two boys and two girls, to mourn his loss.

Mr. Ferguson was an industrious and hard-working gentleman and a man who enjoyed the confidence and esteem of all who knew him. He was a consistent member of the Methodist church and his funeral was presided at his late residence by Rev. Joiner, at 2 o'clock p. m. Tuesday. The interment took place in Hopewell cemetery.

He was 37 years old.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper, forcible and pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a contaminated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

Bailey Hoover, a butcher at Auburn, was arrested under the suspicion that he was John C. Dunham, who brutally murdered six people in California in 1896, and for whose capture $12,000 reward is offered. Hoover established his innocence and was released.

BANKER BRAD.—Mr. A. T. Barnes of the Tennessee Review, and Miss Hattie D. Beard, were married in the ladies' parlor of the Maxwell House, in Nashville Tuesday at 4 o'clock p. m. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Edgar E. Folk, editor of the Baptist and Reflector.

Two Clarksville young people were quietly married in St. Bethlehem Church, in Nashville, by Rev. Mr. Lewis Clifton and the bride Miss Josie Stafford. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. M. Growden, at the home of Mrs. Collier, the grandmother of the bride. The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. A. C. Stafford and is a charming young lady whose graces have won for her many friends. The bridegroom is a well known young business man and is in the employ of Gracely Bros.—Clarksville Times.

WILKERSON-TUCKER.—Mr. Mat L. Wilkerson, a well known young tobacco man of this city, formerly of Springfield, Tenn., and Mr. W. B. Tucker, the adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Tucker, went to Clarksville Monday night and were married in the parlors of the Arlington hotel.

The ceremony was pronounced by Rev. W. H. Major, of Galveston, Tex., who is on a visit to Clarksville. The bride is only 17 years old and is a very pretty and popular young lady, who has had a host of admirers.

The groom is a very industrious young man and although a comparative stranger here, has made many friends.

The young people were accompanied to Tennessee by Messrs. Jas. Carter and Herbert Richards, who witnessed the marriage. Messrs. Wallace Hancock and Ned Turley, both of Clarksville, were also present and acted as witnesses.

On Tuesday morning the newly married couple left for Hygien Springs, where they spent the day. They returned at night and have taken rooms at Mr. W. T. Vaughan's, on Campbell street.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkerson have the best wishes of a host of friends for their future happiness.

REV. HENRY G. PERRY, LL D.

Derives Immediate, Lasting Benefit From Paine's Celery Compound.

Few professional men have had the varied, helpful, successful career of Rev. Henry G. Perry, of Chicago.

A native of Philadelphia he became an honor man of Kenyon college; was admitted to the Ohio bar and elected by the supreme court of Illinois; served as U. S. chaplain under Gen. Davidson in the civil war. He edited the Pacific Christianian in San Francisco and became rector of Trinity church in that city, and in 1870 took charge of St. Paul's, now the prebendal church of Springfield, Ill. Dr. Perry is now the second senior priest in the city residence in Chicago. He writes the following letter:

Chicago, Ill., April 6, 1897.
Dear Sir:—Having suffered severely from the grippe during the winter, last month I began taking Paine's celery compound, and the urgent instance of a friend who recommended it very highly. I soon felt its beneficial effects, and deem it a speedy and excellent remedy in such cases; so much so that I freely send you this endorsement, and commend its use to all similar sufferers. It is a boon to the sick.

Truly Yours,
Henry G. Perry.
Paine's celery compound can be trusted to make one well. The enthusiastic accounts from near friends and relatives whom it has cured of indigestion and other troubles, or a general "run-down" state of health give assurance to thousands of the marvellous power of this greatest of remedies.

A thorough building up the disordered nervous system follows the use of Paine's celery compound. It dispels harmful humors from the blood, and increases its volume and at the same time its nourishing capacity. The powerful Paine's celery compound cures dyspepsia, indigestion, headaches, kidney derangements and other disorders, is unquestioned by the most competent authorities.

Don't suffer from headache's despondent spells, melancholia or any form of depression that comes from indigestion or liver disorder. Trust Paine's celery compound. You will find it the first person, nor the second, nor the hundredth nor the thousandth, it has permanently and speedily cured of the same trouble. The nervous system when deranged is like a clock without a balance wheel that goes too fast and strikes every few minutes. The nerves need to be regulated or they quickly "run down" just as a clock would. The regular, unobtrusive, day-to-day use of Paine's celery compound in a healthy manner, is a platform and thoroughgoing to a vigorous state of nerve force, that is either or later will lead to fatal heart failure.

Paine's celery compound can be trusted to make one well. The enthusiastic accounts from near friends and relatives whom it has cured of indigestion and other troubles, or a general "run-down" state of health give assurance to thousands of the marvellous power of this greatest of remedies.
